

WEBSITE TERMS OF USE

Last updated: 15 May 2026

Please note that The ISPO Impact Foundation is currently in the process of applying for registration as a charity in England and Wales. The Foundation intends to register with the Charity Commission for England and Wales. These Website Terms of Use reflect our current practices and intentions. All references in this document to our charity registration number and registered address will be updated as soon as registration is confirmed.

1. Who are we?

Summary: The ISPO Impact Foundation is a UK registered charity. This section tells you who we are and how to contact us.

The ISPO Impact Foundation ("Foundation", "we", "us" or "our") is a charitable organisation in the process of registering in England and Wales with the Charity Commission.

We are dedicated to protecting the natural environments in which outdoor sport and recreation take place, and to getting people active.

If you have any questions about these terms or about our website, please contact us at info@ispoimpactfoundation.org.

2. By using our website, what are you accepting?

Summary: By visiting or using our website, you agree to be bound by these terms. Please read them carefully before using the site.

Thank you for visiting our website at ispoimpactfoundation.org (the "website"). By accessing or using the website, you agree to comply with and be bound by these Website Terms of Use (these "Terms"). If you do not agree, please do not use the website.

Your continued use of the website following any update to these Terms will be treated as your acceptance of those changes. We recommend that you save or print a copy of these Terms for your records.

3. Can we make changes to these terms?

Summary: We may update these Terms from time to time. We will let you know about any material changes. The current version is always on our website.

We reserve the right to update these Terms periodically to reflect changes in the law, our practices, or the features of our website. Any changes will take effect immediately upon posting on the website unless a different effective date is stated.

It is your responsibility to check these Terms regularly. Your continued use of the website after any changes have been posted constitutes your acceptance of those changes.

Where we consider changes to be material, we will endeavour to provide reasonable advance notice by posting a prominent notice on the website. The date of the most recent update is shown at the top of this document.

4. Can we make changes to our website?

Summary: We may update and improve our website at any time. We will try to give you advance notice of significant changes that may affect you.

We may periodically update, modify or improve our website to reflect our evolving activities, meet the needs of our users, or address other factors we consider necessary. These changes may include enhancements to functionality, updates to content, or alterations to site features.

For significant changes that could materially affect your access to or use of the website, we will make reasonable efforts to provide you with advance notice. We appreciate your understanding as we work to improve the website in alignment with our charitable mission.

5. Can we suspend or withdraw our website?

Summary: We cannot always guarantee that the website will be available. We may need to suspend access for maintenance or other operational reasons.

We aim to make the website available at all times, but we do not guarantee that access will be uninterrupted or error-free. There may be occasions on which we need to suspend, restrict or withdraw access to all or part of the website for business, operational, maintenance, or security reasons, or due to circumstances beyond our reasonable control.

Where planned downtime is anticipated, we will endeavour to provide reasonable advance notice. We are not liable for any loss or inconvenience caused by the website being unavailable. Applicants in particular should not leave submission of a grant application until the final hours of an application window.

You are responsible for ensuring that all persons who access the website through your internet connection are aware of and comply with these Terms.

6. Can we transfer this agreement to someone else?

Summary: We may transfer our rights and obligations under these Terms to another organisation, but we will always tell you if this happens.

We reserve the right to transfer our rights and obligations under these Terms to another organisation, for example in the event of a restructure or merger of charitable activities. Should such a transfer occur, we will notify you in writing. Any transfer will be carried out in a manner that preserves your rights under these Terms.

A person who is not a party to these Terms has no right under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 to enforce any provision of them. You may not transfer your rights or obligations under these Terms to another person without our prior written consent.

7. Can you use material on our website?

Summary: All content on our website is protected by copyright. You may view and print content for personal, non-commercial use, but you must not reproduce or exploit it commercially without our permission.

All content on the website including text, images, logos, graphics, project updates, video, audio, and the design and layout of the site is owned by or licensed to the ISPO Impact Foundation and is protected by copyright and other intellectual property laws, including the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988. All rights are reserved.

You may view, download and print content from the website for your own personal, non-commercial use, provided that:

- you do not alter the content in any way;
- you do not separate any illustrations, photographs, videos, audio sequences or graphics from their accompanying text; and
- you acknowledge the Foundation as the source whenever you share or reproduce any content.

You must not reproduce, distribute, publish or commercially exploit any content from the website without our prior written permission. If you wish to use any content for purposes beyond those described above, please contact us at info@ispoimpactfoundation.org.

The ISPO Impact Foundation name and logo are the property of the Foundation and may be protected as registered or unregistered trademarks. Nothing on this website grants any licence to use them.

Where content on the website relates to funded projects and includes material provided by grantees (such as project descriptions, photographs or updates), that material is used with the grantee's permission. Copyright in such material may remain with the grantee or with third parties.

If you print, copy, download or share any content from the website in breach of these Terms, your right to use the website will cease immediately and you must, at our discretion, return or destroy any copies you have made.

8. Should you rely on information on our website?

Summary: The content on our website is for general informational purposes only. It does not constitute legal, financial or professional advice. Please verify information before acting on it.

The content on our website is provided for general informational purposes only. While we take reasonable care to ensure that information is accurate and up to date, we make no representations or warranties – express or implied – as to its accuracy, completeness or timeliness.

Nothing on this website constitutes legal, financial, investment or professional advice. If you require advice of this nature, you should consult a suitably qualified professional. We encourage you to verify any information before acting on it.

Information about our grant programme including funding priorities, eligibility criteria, award amounts and application deadlines is subject to change at any time. The published information at the time a funding round opens is the definitive guide for that round.

9. What about our grant application process?

Summary: Our website includes an online grant application form. Use of the application form is subject to our Grant Application Terms & Conditions in addition to these Terms.

Our website includes an online grant application form. Use of the application form, available at certain times in the year. Use of the application form, and participation in the grant application process more generally, is governed by the requirements that we publish and share alongside the application form.

Submission of a grant application does not guarantee an award. All applications are subject to the Foundation's assessment process and the Advisory Council's decision. The Advisory Council's decision is final. We accept no liability for any failure or delay in the grant application process that results from circumstances beyond our reasonable control, including technical failures, interruptions to the website, or third-party network issues.

When submitting a grant application, you confirm that all information, statements and supporting materials you provide are complete, accurate and truthful to the best of your knowledge and belief. You must not knowingly provide false, misleading or incomplete information, or omit any information that could reasonably be relevant to the Foundation's assessment of your application. We rely on the information you submit when reviewing applications and making funding decisions. If we become aware that information provided in an application is inaccurate, misleading or dishonest at any stage, we reserve the right to exclude the application from consideration, withdraw any offer of funding, or take other appropriate action.

10. What about funded project pages?

Summary: Our website includes pages for each funded project. These pages are provided in good faith based on information from our grantees. We are not liable for errors in grantee-supplied content.

Our website includes individual pages dedicated to projects funded by the Foundation. These pages are provided to give the public visibility of how grant funds are used and to share the progress and outcomes of funded work. Project page content is provided in good faith based on information supplied by grantees. The Foundation does not independently verify all statements made on project pages and accepts no liability for any errors or omissions in grantee-supplied content.

We publish the name, logo, website link and project description of all successful grantees on our website as a permanent record of our grant making and impact. We will not publish the names of individual beneficiaries, project photographs or personal stories without first checking with the relevant grantee. We rely on grantees to have obtained all necessary consents before sharing personal material with us.

Project pages are intended as a live record of funded work. We will endeavour to keep them updated based on information provided by grantees, but we cannot guarantee that all content reflects the current status of a project at any given time.

11. What about our newsletter?

Summary: You can subscribe to receive updates from us. You can unsubscribe at any time. We handle subscriber data in accordance with our Privacy Notice.

We offer a newsletter to which you can subscribe via the website. By subscribing, you give your consent to receiving email updates from the Foundation about our grant rounds, funded projects, and related news.

You can unsubscribe at any time by clicking the unsubscribe link in any newsletter email or by emailing us at info@ispoimpactfoundation.org. We will process your request promptly and will not send further communications following receipt of a valid unsubscribe request.

12. What about cookies?

Summary: Our website uses cookies. Strictly necessary cookies are set automatically. We will only set non-essential cookies with your consent.

Our website uses cookies and similar tracking technologies. Cookies are small text files placed on your device when you visit a website.

Strictly necessary cookies are set automatically as they are essential for the website to function correctly. We will only set non-essential cookies such as analytics or preference cookies with your prior consent.

Where consent is required, it will be sought via a cookie banner when you first visit the website. You may withdraw your consent to non-essential cookies at any time by adjusting your browser settings or using our cookie preference tool, though disabling certain cookies may affect the functionality of the website.

13. Are we responsible for any websites we link to?

Summary: Our website may contain links to external websites. We do not control or endorse those sites and are not responsible for their content.

Our website may include links to external websites and resources, including the websites of our grantees and partner organisations. These links are provided for information and convenience only.

We have no control over the content, accuracy or availability of external websites. The inclusion of a link does not imply our endorsement of that organisation, its activities or its views. We are not responsible for any loss or damage arising from your use of any linked website, and we encourage you to review the terms and privacy notices of any third-party sites you visit.

14. How will we use your personal data?

Summary: We only use your personal data as set out in our Privacy Notice. Please read it to understand how we handle your information.

We will only use your personal data as set out in our Privacy Notice. The Privacy Notice explains what data we collect, why we collect it, how we use and protect it, and what your rights are under data protection law.

15. Is our website completely secure?

Summary: We work hard to keep our website secure, but we cannot guarantee that it will be entirely free from bugs, viruses or other harmful elements. You must not misuse our website.

While we take appropriate technical and organisational measures to keep the website secure, we cannot guarantee that it will be entirely free from bugs, viruses or other harmful elements. You are responsible for configuring your own technology and systems to access the website safely, and we recommend using reliable and up-to-date antivirus software.

You must not misuse our website. In particular, you must not:

- intentionally introduce viruses, trojans, worms, logic bombs or any other malicious or harmful material;
- attempt to gain unauthorised access to the website, its servers or any systems or networks connected to it (including any conduct that may constitute an offence under the Computer Misuse Act 1990);
- carry out denial-of-service attacks or distributed denial-of-service attacks; or
- scrape, harvest or systematically copy content from the website without our prior written permission.

If you engage in any of these prohibited activities, your right to use the website will be immediately terminated. We will take appropriate action, including reporting the matter to the relevant authorities where necessary.

16. What are the rules around linking to our website?

Summary: You are welcome to link to our homepage in a fair and lawful way. Please contact us if you wish to use any of our content beyond the scope of these Terms.

You are welcome to link to our homepage, provided that you do so in a manner that is fair, legal and does not tarnish our reputation or exploit it unfairly.

Any link should open our website in a new browser window or tab rather than within a frame on your own site, so as to maintain the integrity of our website's presentation. We reserve the right to withdraw linking permission at any time and without prior notice.

If you wish to link to any page other than our homepage, or to use any content from our website beyond the scope set out in these Terms, please contact us at info@ispoimpactfoundation.org to obtain our written permission.

17. What is our responsibility for loss or damage suffered by you?

Summary: To the fullest extent permitted by law, we exclude liability for loss or damage arising from your use of our website. We do not exclude liability for death or personal injury caused by our negligence, or for fraud.

To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, the Foundation excludes all liability (whether in contract, tort including negligence, breach of statutory duty or otherwise) for any loss or damage arising out of, or in connection with:

- your use of or inability to use this website;
- your reliance on any content on the website; or
- the website being unavailable, inaccurate, incomplete or out of date.

This exclusion applies to all loss or damage, including (without limitation):

- loss of income, profits, sales, business or revenue;
- business interruption;
- loss of anticipated savings;
- loss of business opportunity, goodwill or reputation; and
- any indirect or consequential loss or damage.

To the fullest extent permitted by law, the Foundation also excludes all implied terms, conditions, warranties and representations that might otherwise apply to the website or its content.

Nothing in these Terms limits or excludes our liability for: death or personal injury caused by our negligence; fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation; or any other liability that cannot be excluded or limited by English law.

18. What is the governing law?

Summary: These Terms are governed by English law. Any disputes will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of England & Wales. We encourage you to contact us first to seek an informal resolution.

These Terms, their subject matter and their formation (and any non-contractual disputes or claims arising from or in connection with them) are governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England and Wales. We both agree to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of England and Wales.

Before bringing any formal legal proceedings, we encourage you to contact us at info@ispoimpactfoundation.org to seek an informal resolution of any concerns.

If any provision of these Terms is found by a court to be invalid, unlawful or unenforceable, that provision shall be severed to the minimum extent necessary and the remaining provisions shall continue in full force and effect. Our failure to enforce any provision at any time shall not constitute a waiver of our right to do so in the future.
